

Some courses may require you to record video and share or submit it in Canvas. You can use various devices (e.g., computer, smartphone, tablet, point-and-shoot camera, etc.) to record your video and post it in Canvas. These instructions show you how to upload your video to Canvas, or directly record your video (i.e., webcam) within Canvas, and submit it.

How To Use A Device To Record Video And Upload It To An Assignment In Canvas

1. Following your instructor's directions for the assignment, record your video using your recording device (i.e. smartphone, tablet, digital camera, webcam, etc.):

2. Save the recorded video file to your computer. How you do this is up to you. Common methods include:

- a) Upload the file to the cloud (e.g., Google Drive) and then download to your computer.
- b) Connect your recording device directly to your computer so that the video file is directly accessible therein.
